

Additional Independent Living Options in a Christian Science Community

In addition to the places listed in the Organization of Residential Homes, there are other options for independent living in a Christian Science community. This resource presents a current list of those additional organizations.

The BHN facilitates connections between Christian Scientists who are either looking for a home or have a home to share. This online network provides a listing of Christian Scientists who would like to rent out a room in their home (or the entire home), to other Christian Scientists. Please note that although these homes are listed on the Asher Student Foundation website, these are not Asher Houses, are not run by Asher Student Foundation, and are open to Christian Scientists of any age. AsherStudentFoundation/Beatrice
